This month's topic:

REMARKABLY SMALL APPS WITH REMARKABLY BIG FEATURES

A fresh batch of free, unique, wonderfully useful Mac applications to be presented by Rob Ellis

Much like an acorn, a parachute, a habanero pepper, a candy heart bearing the perfect romantic phrase, and Mighty Mouse, all of which clearly illustrate the concept that big things come in small packages, there are many apps for your Mac that require little storage space and open quickly, yet accomplish impressive tasks. What sorts of tasks? How about tracking parcels without needing to visit a single website, easing the reading of long lines without straining your eyes, finding words, synonyms and information almost instantly, easily keeping your Mac or your Mac's display awake for specific amounts of time, and much more? Into every life, a little app must fall, and we have several. On Tuesday, Rob will showcase a brand-new batch of diminutive apps which sport prodigious features, none of which will cost you a single red cent. Please join us for some big information, and we promise said information will not amount to mere small talk.

Also,

BACK TO BASICS

In this segment, we focus on more fundamental skills, to make life a little easier for those who are trying to learn how to use their Macs and iOS devices. This month:

iPHONE TIPS, TRICKS AND INFO to be presented by Annette Davis

If you would love to know several wireless keyboard tricks, how to make your iPhone's battery last even longer, how to share a voice mail, and much more, come see Annette's presentation. On Tuesday, she will share a bunch of helpful, little-known secrets to make your iPhone work even better.

In 1900, Theodore Roosevelt first used the phrase, "Speak softly and carry a big app." While we confess that we might be slightly butchering this quote, we would like to point out that a small app can be mighty effective as well. In fact, we will be happy to prove it. Please join us on Tuesday, and please feel free to bring a friend. See you there!
