SAVVY SOCIAL NETWORKING

The scoop on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram: the smartest and safest ways to use them to be presented by Roger Owens

Whether you would like to share your thoughts or photos, or connect with friends or loved ones or business associates, or communicate with others who share your interests, social networking can be a valuable tool. If you have never used the likes of Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, LinkedIn or Pinterest, or if you are already adept at social networking but would like to learn how to do it better, much better, then our next meeting is for you. On Tuesday, with his main focus on Facebook and Twitter, Roger will share solid information about social networking, including security issues, where to find various tools and features, how to make the best use of Twitter's 140-character limit, how to set Facebook options to control who can see your posts and profile information, how businesses and individuals can utilize networking, and how to have some fun, because all of this is, after all, social. If you think tweeting is for the birds, then please come join us on Tuesday for a bird's-eye view of social networking.

Also,

BACK TO MAC BASICS

Each of your Mac's Finder windows sports a toolbar, and that toolbar can be customized in many simple yet powerful ways.
