7:00 PM — Presentations begin

This month's topic:

MAPS ON MACS — REVISITED

Some great new tips on how to use Apple's Maps app and Google Maps for 21st century-style navigation on your Mac to be presented by Tom Davis

Where am I? Where is it? How do we get there? What will it look like when we get there? Are we there yet? To answer these pertinent questions, meet Apple Maps and Google Maps. Apple Maps is built into every new Mac, and Google Maps is available via any web browser. On Wednesday, Tom will show the differences between Apple Maps and Google Maps, and the features of each, including standard and satellite views, suggestions for the best routes, displaying multiple locations of a specific type such as restaurants and hotels, easy access to phone numbers and reviews, sending the info to your iPhone, interactive photo-realistic 3D views, and the ability to soar virtually above select cities and landmarks with "Flyover". When planning your next trip, be it to another state, another country, or to a new doughnut shop across town, may the road rise to meet you and may your path be clear, courtesy of your favorite Maps. No map-folding required.

Also,

SIGHT MEETS SOUND

to be presented by Al Risaliti

Synchronizing audio to video, and vice versa, can be pretty tricky business, unless you are lucky enough to be in on a certain secret. On Wednesday, Al will reveal a simple trick which makes it incredibly easy to sync the video track to the audio track in iMovie.

While you can still get your hands on a paper map, and spend time finding desired locations and routes, modern technology can do it better, faster and much more easily. Please join us on Wednesday to learn how to use your Mac to find your way around, without taking up extra room in your glovebox. And please feel free to bring a friend. See you there!
