Have you ever encountered a product or technique or shortcut that you never guessed you needed until you found it, then wondered how you had managed to live without it? That delightful phenomenon is about to reoccur. Using a Mac is not magic, yet there are numerous simple tricks that yield astonishing results, or save you lots of time, or accomplish tasks which you had no idea were possible. The secret is in knowing how, "secret" being the operative term, because many of these tips are little-known and difficult to find. On Tuesday, Rob will reveal a barrel of tips and tricks, including how to discover the combined file size of multiple folders in about 3 seconds, how to batch-rename files quickly without using an app, how to open any System Preferences pane you like without opening System Preferences, how to quickly get to where you want to go in a long document or Finder window without scrolling, how to organize the cables dangling behind your Mac without spending a cent, clever keyboard shortcuts you never knew existed, and oh so much more. Please join us, and by all means bring a notepad! You do not need to be a card-carrying geek to be proficient on a Mac, but after Tuesday's meeting, you just may be a Mac genius. Sporting a propeller-bedecked beanie cap is optional.

Also,

BACK TO MAC BASICS

In this segment, we focus on more fundamental skills, to make life a little easier for those who are trying to learn how to use their Macs. This month:

FACEBOOK MESSENGER
to be presented by Bruce Kennedy

What is Facebook Messenger and why might you give two hoots about it? Available on the Facebook menu or as a separate messaging app which can run on iOS, Android or Windows, Facebook Messenger allows you to do video chats, audio calls and text messages, all without incurring data charges. You can easily see when your friends are online and have live chats with them, not to mention send photos or videos incorporated into your messages, all of this either with or without a Facebook account. On Tuesday, Bruce will show how to find your way around Facebook Messenger and how to use its impressive features.

How many useful things can you do with your Mac that you are not already doing? The answer is: roughly a billion more things. We cannot show the entire billion of them in one evening, but we can show you bunches of them. Please join us for bunches of enlightening, useful, pretty darned amazing Macintosh tips and tricks, and please feel free to bring a friend. See you there!
