This month's topic:

CONTACTS

A better way to save and use contact information via the Contacts app on your Mac to be presented by Annette Davis

There are many traditional methods for saving phone numbers, mailing addresses and email addresses, including writing them in and on everything from proper address books to scraps of paper, matchbook covers, bar napkins, and your own hand. But there is an app already on your Mac which makes easy work of organizing and keeping contact info, and saves you from trying to find that torn-off piece of envelope with Ted's number, or struggling to read your hastily-written scrawl. On Tuesday, Annette will help us explore the Contacts app, including how to add and delete contacts, create groups and smart groups, add photos, back up contact info, and even how to print contact lists, mailing addresses and envelopes. Please join us to find out how the Contacts app helps you keep contact info in a better, modern way: organized, legible, easy.

Also,

BACK TO MAC BASICS

In this segment, we focus on more fundamental skills, to make life a little easier for those who are trying to learn how to use their Macs. This month:

SIRI MEETS THE iOS CONTACTS AND CALENDAR APPS to be presented by Roger Owens

What is even easier than using Contacts and Calendar on an iPhone or iPad is controlling those apps by using your voice and Siri. On Tuesday, Roger will show what you can do and how to do it, along with a few tips for organizing and managing contacts on iOS.
