This month's topic:

iTUNES DEMYSTIFIED

How to use the newest version of iTunes and make the most of its best features to be presented by Roger Owens

When iTunes version 11 was released in late 2012, Apple made some new friends and lost many old ones. The changes to the iTunes user interface were, for some, utterly baffling, with some of the most-used functions virtually hidden when compared with previous versions. For many users, iTunes became a puzzle waiting to be solved. But that was then; this is now. In versions 12 and 12.5, Apple tweaked iTunes' interface and brought back some user-friendliness. On Tuesday, Roger will show how to navigate and use the brand-new iTunes 12.6 to download, manage, listen to and view various types of media, and to manage iOS devices. We will also look at some some dandy bells and whistles in iTunes, such as audio and video enhancement and equalization, sharing your playlists, sharing your library on your local network, integration with Apple Music, "For You" music tailored to your tastes, AirPlay of music or video content to another device, music lyrics, iTunes radio, and more. If you have been hoping for a better iTunes app or would like to get better at using it, Tuesday's meeting is the perfect place to get reacquainted with iTunes.

Also,

BACK TO MAC BASICS

In this segment, we focus on more fundamental skills, to make life a little easier for those who are trying to learn how to use their Macs. This month:

BETTER GOOGLE SEARCHES
to be presented by Annette Davis

Doing Google searches is easy, but often the search results are not quite what you were after. Surprisingly, Google has built several advanced features into their search engine, yet most searchers have never even heard of them. On Tuesday, Annette will show an impressive array of simple techniques for crafting your Google searches, and finding exactly what you had in mind.
