SWEET TALK

A hands-on look at Skype and FaceTime for video chats on your Mac and iOS devices to be presented by Tom Davis, Roger Owens and Rob Ellis

© Rob Ellis

Do you remember the enchanting predictions of video telephones, promised to become common technology somewhere in the not-too-terribly-distant future? At long last, yesterday's tomorrow is today, and not only do you have that video phone, it may be in your pocket. On Tuesday, we will take a good look, literally, at video chatting for Macintosh, iPhone, iPad and iPod touch. Exploring the features in both Skype and FaceTime, we will compare both apps and explain how to use them, including live demonstrations of video and audio chats. No matter what the distance, you can have a face-to-face business conference, or share a toast with someone special. If a picture is worth a thousand words, a smile you can truly see must surely be worth a million.

Also,

BACK TO MAC BASICS

In this segment, we focus on more fundamental skills, to make life a little easier for those who are trying to learn how to use their Macs. This month:

FAST FINGERS
Trackpad gestures on your Mac to be presented by Roger Owens

Using a trackpad is like mousing around without a mouse. Most techniques common to mice are also possible on a trackpad, if you know how. On Tuesday, Roger will show several basic and not-so-basic trackpad gestures which make it easy to work or play without a mouse.

It's the talk of the town, and we're not talking small talk. Using Skype or FaceTime, you can talk until the cows come home, and when they do, perhaps you can invite them to talk as well. Please join us on Tuesday and we'll talk about it. And by all means talk a friend into coming too. See you there!
