This month's topic:

BEHIND THE SCENES

How to swap backgrounds and add objects to your own photos with PhotoScissors, plus thousands of free background photos to be presented by Annette Davis

When perusing your own photos, have you ever wished you could change the background, or cut a person out of a photo and put that person into a different photo, or even move something or someone to a different spot? On Tuesday, Annette will show how you can pull off these tricks, and more, without the need for expensive software or years of photo-editing experience, by using a user-friendly app called PhotoScissors. Annette will also show a website where you can download some great photos to use for your new backgrounds, without spending a dime. On the agenda: how to quickly erase a background, how to replace a background with a different background, how to change a background to a solid color, how to add an item to an existing photo, and how to gently move Aunt Patty to the other side of the palm tree. Our Tuesday meeting is the perfect place to learn how to do easy photo cutouts, plus get your hands on free photos, and have fun in the process. Get the picture?

Also,

BACK TO MAC BASICS

In this segment, we focus on more fundamental skills, to make life a little easier for those who are trying to learn how to use their Macs. This month:

HOW TO SEND REALLY BIG FILES
to be presented by Rob Ellis

Some files are simply too large to be sent via email. On Tuesday, Rob will show his favorite free file-sharing sites. Even if you have, for example, a Dropbox or Google Drive account, file-sharing sites can make sending large files a breeze, and can even make things easier for the recipient of the files.

"Hmmm... If only I could remove that eyesore of a shopping center behind my best friend and replace it with some sort of beautiful, scenic vista. But even if I could perform such wizardry, where would I find a beautiful, scenic vista?" Well, we know a place where you can find out all this and more. Please join us on Tuesday to learn how to perform your own photo wizardry, and please feel free to bring a friend. See you there!
